THE WISTFUL STORY ABOUT A FRIENDSHIP PART 1

Malaysia. What does friendship means to all of you? Well, I kept asking the same thing to myself. It all happened to me when I was on my journey around the world just to find new experiences. The word 'friendship' became clearer when I reached a place called 'The World End'. I heard many stories about this place. One of it, had made me become interested with it. It is about a friendship between a woman with a cat. The story was from 10 year's ago but still it is always famous and also become the talk of the town. It was sad to be heard because the main character had died in this story. It all started when the woman found a cat in a stray box. The kitten looked so pitiful. She made her up her mind and decided to take that little kitten home with her. She felt it was alright to bring that kitten home as the kitten can accompany her at home. It was a lonely house because she was from a rich family and her house was as big as a villa. Once she arrived at the house, she bathed the kitten first and the fed it. She felt so guilty to the kitten as it was so sad to see the kitten in the dirty box. After she fed the kitten, she went upstairs to get her bath. After taking bath, she went straight to her bedroom. She closed her eyes while thinking about the kitten and unexpectedly she fell asleep. Risen on the beautiful morning, she felt something fluffy beside her. She looked at it and was shocked because the kitten slept by her side that night. She looked at the kitten dearly. She didn't know that the kitten fur was so soft because last night it was wet and it could not be seen. The kitten looked so happy even when it was sleeping. She felt very calm by just looking at the kitten because last night she did not only thinking about the kitten but also the problems she faced. She patted the kitten smoothly not to awake the kitten. Suddenly the kitten wake up and she was kind of guilty to awake up the kitten. The kitten moaned and then went closer to her. It circled her and jumped up on her lap. Then she picked up the kitten and brought it downstairs. They ate together happily that morning. She decided to name the kitten as Waffle because of it's fluffiness.

Five year's had passed when they were together, the kitten had grew into a cat from a little kitten. They had lived happily ever after from the first meeting. Suddenly, on one evening, the women did not came back home. The cat that waits for her owner to came back home felt uneasy. It keeps wailing day to day. One day, the relatives of the women had came to her house to take her belongings. They found out about the cat that waits for her. When they saw the cat, they felt sad as the cat had lost it weight and had become so skinny. It kept waiting for the women to come back without eating anything at all. They decided to take the cat to the place where it should know. They brought the cat to the graveyard of the woman. They all had shed tears when seeing the cat wailing in despair seeing it's owner tombstone. They stayed at the graveyard for about an hour just because the cat didn't want to leave. After a few hours, they came back and their eyes had become watery again because the cat had died there on top of the tombstone of it's owner. The sight touched their heart so much. They decided to place a tombstone of the cat by the side of it's owner. This was a true friendship means.
