Everyone has friends. Some have many, some have few. Nevertheless, in the end we all gain the same thing, companionship and experience. Having a friendship helps you go through life a bit more enjoyable and exciting. Now, who is a friend ?

A friend is a person who will be there for you in both hardship and joy. Having one might get you discovering your passion you never knew you had ! The most important quality of a good friend is honesty. To trust your friend you must believe and have confidence in that person.

You will experience how to love and being loved, taking care and taken care of. It is a cycle of life with no exception to no one.

A friend is who we seek advice and opinion from trivial matter to the most important matter.

Friendship is so valuable, it cannot be sold or bought. It requires a lot of patience and trust in order for the bond to last longer, maybe even until our last breath. Who knows ? So appreciate your friends who have been with you through thick and thin and never judge you for who you are !
