

FRIENDSHIP

As we grow up, we realize it becomes less important to have a ton of friends, and more important to have real ones. No matter how far friends are. Through distance and time I'll always remember to contact you, my sunshine.

Everyone Needs Friends. Friends can keep us from being lonely and help us develop and grow.

Friends lighten the load and the mood. Friends will want to spend time with you and you with them.

If we have friends, we will always have someone to share the highlights and the worries, and we will never be completely alone when we have friends.

To have a friend and to be a friend is what makes life worthwhile.

Friends will say I will always have your back.

Friends will be missing for you, like a roaring river flowing day and night, wishing you were here by their side.
